

Learning Objective:

To retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction.

Let's read from 'The Ross Sea Party' to the end of the book.

You're going to pick someone from Shackleton's crew (pages 5-6) to research.

Today you need to collect facts and record them in your English book.

Remember: you need to take notes and then tomorrow put the facts into your own words.

Make sure you choose a crew member with lots of facts about!

[https://www.coolantarctica.com/Antarctica%20fact%20file/History/
antarctic\_whos\_who\_endurance.php](https://www.coolantarctica.com/Antarctica%20fact%20file/History/antarctic_whos_who_endurance.php)

How to take notes

Frank Hurley with a cinematograph, an early movie camera, on South Georgia

Frank Hurley in 1914

Frank Hurley under the bow of the Endurance in 1915

The Endurance Expedition

The only member of Shackleton's expedition that Shackleton didn't meet or interview before the expedition set off, Hurley was accepted on the strength of his work with Mawson on the 1911-13 Australasian Antarctic Expedition.

Hurley joined Shackleton's Endurance expedition at six weeks notice meeting the ship in Buenos Aires after travelling from Australia. He had been warned by Mawson to make an arrangement with Shackleton whereby he was paid a percentage of the profits of the expedition. It was in Shackleton's financial interests to make sure that a full pictorial record of the expedition made it back home.

Hurley was tall and tough, his first impressions of the crew of the Endurance were not favourable thinking that their physiques were small and not up to standard of the men on Mawson's Australian Antarctic Expedition.

*Turn notes into a piece of work showing what you have learned.
You can present it in any way you wish.*